MARRIAGE LICENCES.

Special Marriage Licences.

Special Licences are granted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, through the Faculty Office, Doctor's Commons. The fees payable for licence, stamp, &c., are about £30.

Marriage Licences may be procured in London at the Faculty Office, at the Vice-general's Office, and at the Registrar of London's Registry in Doctor's Commons, between 10 and 4, by one of the contracting parties. In the country, at the Bishop's Registrar's Office, but these only allow the parties to be married in the dioceses in which they are issued; those procured at the Faculty Office, or at the Vice-general's Office can be made out for any part of the country. No restrictions as to fees exist, except in the case of the parties. Affidavits are prepared from the special instructions of one of the parties about to be married, and the licence is delivered to the party upon payment of fees amounting to about thirty shillings, which, with the cost of stamps, makes the entire cost about £22. 6d. In order to avoid fraud, it is enacted that "before any licence be granted, one of the parties shall make a declaration, on oath, that there is no legal impediment to the intended marriage, and also that one of such parties hath had his or her usual place of abode, for the space of 14 days immediately preceding the issuing of the licence, within the parishes assigned to the parish church or the district parson in the church of which the marriage is to be solemnized."

Marriage by Banns.

If the contracting parties reside in different parishes or districts, the publication must be made in the churches of each district or parish for three consecutive Sundays, and the marriage must take place in one of the churches wherein the Banns have been published within three months of the third time of publication, or the Banns become void, and have to be republished before a marriage can be solemnized.

Marriages can be solemnized in places of worship belonging to other denominations than the Church of England when the building has been duly licensed for the purpose. Civil Marriages can be performed before a duly licensed Registrar. Particulars of such can be obtained at all Registry Offices.
